Services Outdoors on a January Sabbath Morning.

The open-air meeting yesterday was so successful that others will be held. The photograph shows the Sunday-school pupils, the pastor, Rev. W. P. Hardy, and standing at the left, the superintendent, Mrs. Willard Goodwin.

OPEN AIR SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

"We thank thee, Heavenly Father, for the glorious climate of Southern California, which makes it possible for the children to be outdoors in the open air to worship. For this art everywhere, and nature is so much thy holy temple as any house which human hands have built."

This was the prayer which Rev. W. P. Hardy, pastor of the Berean Congregational Church, offered in the presence of nearly forty happy children, who met outside the church yesterday, to enjoy their first open-air Sunday-school.

The meeting was called by the pastor, mainly to give the children an opportunity to present their offerings to the Armenian relief fund yesterday being the last day of the drive. The contributions were liberal and offered in gladness of spirit. The Sunday-school members have already adopted two Armenian orphanages during the drive, and Willard Goodwin, husband of the Sunday-school superintendent, has offered to hit the devilish thing and hit it hard.

"This week the God of the heavens has heard the cry of Belgium ravished women and Serbia's orphans answered the prayers of un-falling faith for a clean nation and a stainless flag."

"Let us be written in letters of living light that the nation was doomed in America, not by argument and reason, for these were arrayed in its support, but by the faith that stands above argument and changes reason from an enemy to a friend. All other great evils are to be destroyed by and only by the gospel of Christ."

DR. CHARLES C. SELEMAN. TRINITY AUDITORIUM. "The week just closed has been one of the great weeks in the history of the world. It marks the beginning of the new era, which of itself is a world achievement; it marks the wonderful generosity of the American people in their pouring forth of gifts for the succor of the distressed Syrians and Armenians; and, thanks be to God, it marks the successful culmination of the years and years of effort to wipe out the disgrace of a nation authorizing the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors."

DR. EDGAR E. DAUGHERTY. FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH. "Thank God, the week has witnessed American completion of the peace of the liquor business. War, pestilence, famine, and vice combined have not harrowed human welfare as have the consequences of King Alcohol. His reign in quietude will have many sincere mourners in our nation, but the American people have recently learned the partnership of 'Booze and Germanism' cannot entertain the ideals of altruism—and those ideals face the noon of their day on earth."

REV. SAMUEL M. BERNARD. PICO HEIGHTS CHRISTIAN. "The people are glad, and it seems as if the very hills about us are singing, and the trees clapping their hands for joy, because the citizens of a great country have conquered the demon that so long has kept them in thrall."

DR. HUGH K. WALKER. FIRST PRESBYTERIAN. "This is one great revolution in public sentiment, which was largely brought to a focus by the war. The great conflict taught us the value of conservation, and now, thank God, we shall have conservation of the greatest asset of any country—men, women and children."

Collector Carter Sets Forth What Must Be Counted.

Two Obligations; File Return and Make Payment.

Careful Review is Necessary, and It's a Big Job.

The big income tax of 1918 is now under way, and every preparation is being made to handle the largest collection in the history of the income tax law.

"I am not waiting for the final passage of the new revenue bill by Congress," said Collector Carter yesterday, "nor for the new regulations and blank forms to be issued. To get this big tax in, and get it accurate and complete, I urge that we all begin now."

"The income tax obligations imposed by the old laws, as well as the measure now in Congress, consist of two distinct operations. One is to file return or statement of all items of income and items of deductions allowable by law, and to do this within the period named in the law. The other is to pay the tax."

"Neither of these obligations can be met without a careful review of income and expenditure for the tax year. That is the big job right now, and that is why the income tax drive is already under way. Everywhere the pencil is busy. The old year is done; all its fruits are gleaned; and every person who fared well or earned a good competence must analyze his own case in cold figures."

"When the new bill is enacted into law, proper return forms will be distributed throughout the district, and everybody will be informed of the date when the sworn return must be filed. Deputies will be sent out to central locations, and travel through the district, adding taxpayers in the preparation of the returns and in deciding doubtful points. We will go right to the people to clear the income tax, and with the co-operation which the public can give the government men, the return will be filed by everybody who comes under the law's provisions, the right taxes will be paid, and the district will have done its full patriotic duty toward the government's support."

"Meanwhile, there is no need of delaying the preparation of the return. Anything that Congress does now will not affect the amount of a person's earnings for 1918. Let us avoid the belated and wearing task of figures that may hit or miss. Guesses cannot be accepted as the basis of taxation. It is the duty of every person to compile correct figures and ascertain whether his income for 1918 was sufficient to make necessary payments."

WILL HIT HIGH WAGES. "The year 1918 was a banner year for salaries and wages, and the high cost of living has made it necessary for the average small tradesman and to the farmer. The opinion in Washington is that an additional 10,000,000 citizens and residents will make this year their first income tax returns."

"All income tax returns indicate that the income tax this year will reach nearly every working man and woman, and nearly every merchant, shopkeeper and farmer. Not all working men will pay the tax, but nearly all will be obliged to make a sworn statement of the year's income."

"I am, therefore, advising every unmarried person who earned $1000 or over during the year 1918, and every married person, who, together with wife or husband, earned $2000, to sharpen his pencil and figure out how he stands."

"He must ascertain accurately his gross income from all sources. There is his salary or wages, including overtime pay and any bonus received as additional compensation. A married person having children under 18 who are working should include the earnings of such children."

RED TAPE CAN'T STOP WEDDING.

Orange County Pair Grapple with Passport Rules.

Man Can't Come from Mexico, so Girl Goes to Him.

They'll Wed on Border, but Don't Know Which Side.

A romance of the border, in which Uncle Sam is to give the bride away, is shortly to take place, the contracting parties being prominent Southern Californians. The bride-elect is Miss Dorothy Utt, of Tustin, and the groom-to-be is Tom Robertson, formerly of Santa Ana. The outstanding feature of the romance is that nobody knows on which side of the border the marriage will take place.

Mr. Robertson, who is now in Mexico, cannot get a passport to come here and claim his bride, so if it is necessary for her to do the traveling, accompanied by her sister, Miss Gertrude Utt, she will leave today for Nogales, Ariz., where negotiations looking toward a wedding ceremony on one side of the border or the other will be opened.

The romance began while Miss Utt and Mr. Robertson were attending the High School at Santa Ana, and nobody knows, just now, how it is going to end, but Miss Utt is sure of the future that she has taken place last October, near Sinaloa, where Mr. Robertson has a hamp ranch, a quantity of household goods which cannot be bought there.

The wedding will take place in Nogales if the Mexican government will give Robertson a passport into the United States. Miss Utt will be met at Nogales by her father, C. E. Utt, who has been in Mexico for several weeks looking after ranch interests.

Should Mexico deny Robertson a passport, Miss Utt will use a passport issued by the United States, and will cross over into Mexico, where the wedding will take place. The wedding was planned to take place last October, but Robertson, who has been in Mexico over a year, was unable to get a passport and go to Tustin for the ceremony. On account of conditions in Mexico at that time, the Federal government would not issue a passport to a woman to enter Mexico. But Miss Utt persisted in her effort to get the permit, and a week ago the government relented and issued it to her. The news was telegraphed to her father and Mrs. Utt, who were instructed to start for the border at once. Since then her friends have been helping her get ready for the journey.

Miss Utt is one of Tustin's most popular young women. She is the daughter of C. E. Utt, in former years known as the "Peanut King" of Southern California. He is a stockholder in the extensive San Joaquin fruit ranch, near Tustin. Recently he entered the grape juice manufacturing business. Her mother, Mrs. Utt, and her sister are members of the Sierra Club.

REPORT NEW OIL WELLS. Twenty-four in State Made Ready to Drill Since First of Year. Reports filed with R. P. McLaughlin, State oil and gas supervisor, for the week ending January 11, show seven wells ready to drill, making a total of twenty-four new wells reported since the first of the year. There were thirty-five wells reported ready for test of water shut-off; nine toward the government's support.

It is the duty of every person to compile correct figures and ascertain whether his income for 1918 was sufficient to make necessary payments."

"I am, therefore, advising every unmarried person who earned $1000 or over during the year 1918, and every married person, who, together with wife or husband, earned $2000, to sharpen his pencil and figure out how he stands."

"He must ascertain accurately his gross income from all sources. There is his salary or wages, including overtime pay and any bonus received as additional compensation. A married person having children under 18 who are working should include the earnings of such children."

There is an air of individuality and distinction about the clothes and custom apparel.

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

The Model Wife.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

"The difficulty of being a model wife," said a woman the other day, "is that in order to please your husband and live up to his expectations, a wife must always be a this year's model. Last year's model wife doesn't go with him."

"It would be easy enough to be a model wife if a man continued to be satisfied with the model that he picked out, and if he would settle on the particular line of charms and virtues that he desired in his wife and stick to specifications. But he doesn't. He gets tired of the very qualities that caused him to select the particular woman he did for a wife, just as he gets tired of the shape, size and color of his old automobile, and wants to trade them in for something that's fresh and shiny with red paint and get all the new-fangled alleged improvements."

"That's why the job of being a wife in these days is about the most hazardous undertaking a woman can go into. She can't settle down and develop her talents along any one line because she never knows when her husband is going to demand that she shall be something entirely different, and want her to change from being a limousine into a jitney, or convert herself from being a jitney into a limousine, so to speak, or to install a new set of gears, in her mental make-up, or to shift from low speed to high."

"Suppose when a man was poor and required a car in his business, he went out and bought a big, strong motor truck, out of which he got faithful service for fifteen or twenty years, and at the end of that time, when he had made a fortune largely by the aid of the truck, he suddenly became disgusted with it and wanted to send it to the scrap heap because it was heavy and cumbersome, and wasn't a new-fangled racing car. We'd think him crazy."

"Yet that's about the attitude thousands of men take toward their faithful old wives as they approach middle age. When the man was young and poor, and needed an able-bodied working partner, he married a girl who was in the motor-truck class. She wasn't a show-window ornament to begin with, but she was a first aid to prosperity. She cooked and sewed, washed, patched, mended, and did her own baby tending, pulled and hauled until she got her map upon the firm road that leads to success, and in those strenuous times you can depend upon it that she was just about the kind of a model wife that her husband wanted. "But when he gets to rolling gaily down Easy Street, and observes the slim, sunny looking, freshly-painted and satin upholstered lady roadsters that are breaking the speed regulations as they pass him by, he gives wife the once over, and heaves a sigh to think he has got to jog along with that old 1900 bus for the bal-

SEX AND INDUSTRY.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Referring to Philip Montgomery's letter in The Times of recent date, which is causing quite a great deal of notice and controversy, let me say that Mr. Montgomery must belong to the "men-are-it" class. It is well for humanity that there is another type in existence. His generous statement of his willingness to give the extra salary he will receive, after all the women have quit the business world, to the women of his family, sounds rather philanthropic. But the woman of today is not taking the crumbs from off the table. She is a capable being and able to cope with the big things of life. How about the homes where there is no "male man?"

If the men who went to war filled their various positions well, their employers will gladly take them back; but why should they do so if the women who have slipped into their places do the work better? The returned soldier is not looking for charity either. He wants his right and will get it.

Women should have the same wages as men, and I am voicing the sentiment of the majority of my sex when I say that they want it. Men have forced them to work for less. Why not place the blame for the low wage on the head of the employer, where it belongs, instead of "talking it out on the women?" Let the employer get down to the real business of paying his employees what they are worth, whether they be male or female, married or single, rich or poor.

Miss Lee would eliminate all but single women from the business life. She is looking through her narrow vision just as Mr. Montgomery. Co-operation is what we most need. There is enough and more in this great universe for all.

ELIZABETH R. TOMLINSON.

PASADENA, Jan. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] There is hardly use in waiting for the Times over the suggestion that somebody blow a whistle and the women all quit their jobs at once. The men can take them at higher wages. In the first place the women would do it. One such medal is enough and State medals are not recognized in the United States service and are not allowed to be worn.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Pay Better than Butters.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The talk of the city and State press is a button or badge to the returned soldier is very nice, but of no use to the soldier, inasmuch as Congress has passed a bill awarding a medal or button to all soldiers or seamen who served ninety days and were honorably discharged in this war. One such medal is enough and State medals are not recognized in the United States service and are not allowed to be worn.

If the great State of California and the city of Los Angeles wish to do something for the soldier and sailor who gave up his position, friends and family to fight the Hun, why not pay him his salary, just the same as if California had called him out to do strike duty or any other duty which the State has the privilege of calling her soldiers to do. A great many States paid their soldiers their regular pay in addition to what the government paid them during the Spanish-American War, and if they were worth that much then, they surely in this great world's war, for the job they so nicely handled and finished, are worth a hundred times as much.

Lay Delegates and Conventions.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Episcopal Church will soon hold its annual convention, and its organ at Santa Monica, the Los Angeles Churchman, laments the annual scarcity of lay delegates. How could it be otherwise? The "cloth" does all the talking and all the knowledge is in their keeping! You see it in the parishes, which are run like army camps, with the regular as general. And if you want a genuine display of jealousy, observe a parish when his so-called "prerogative" are not observed. It's a constant "By your leave, sir," when a layman wants to do anything. This sort of thing has wrecked a promising little parish quite near Los Angeles.

The Price of Milk.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been waiting patiently for the end of the war to make the price of milk go down. But it won't go. So here goes:

"Don't cry over spilt milk" was quite easy to say.

When that produce was plenty and cheap;

But the price it brings now, why, it is enough to make anyone weep.

MEN OF THE TOWN.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.

Wallis, Old Top:

It's something to have everybody that is anybody talking about you, now isn't it? Especially to have them admire the shocking things you can do, to like all your worries and most of all to like to have you worry them. And now there comes along Ed Ulrich, who has such a penchant for causing social twitters that he will stop at almost nothing to set the town agog. For instance, his love-making at the Maryland. He was with such a fetching good-looker, a petite Southern girl, the other night, to whom he appeared desperately attached all during a long series of dances. Purely for the benefit of the gossip-loving shock absorbers around the walls.

The couple would dance round the edge of the floor, near the mural flowers, a lot of old ladies and all that, he, the while holding her so close and saying such delightfully saucy things to her loud enough for their exclusive benefit.

The worst part of it is, old dear, that Ed claims he never starts anything that he can't finish.

Oh, by the way—that dashing Ensign Crawford may have been ordered by the government to Dalmatia to take charge of a home for Austrian submarines, as America's representative. It is said that certain Pasadena girls are anxious for fear he desert them for some comely Parisienne. Oh!

And these self-made Pasadena fappers are sighing about the arrival of Traverse Allen, son of Sir James Allen, one of the British shipping kings. But Traverse isn't the sort who craves attention. Rather barricades himself from amorous females, fears lest he get caught in the matrimonial net, etc.

Don't these returned war heroes have a dicker of a time readjusting themselves to the routine of civilian life? One came home a month ago attired in the natty uniform of a Canadian aviator. Promptly he was grabbed by one of our unblinking debutantes. She ran him about for a week or so, when he announced that he had gone to work. The next day she went to see him and he offered her a very nice grade of ribbon for really almost nothing at all. Whereupon she flounced out of the store, promptly to grab another savor of democracy. Her poor, perturbed dear disappeared from the department store.

The next time she saw him he took her nickel on the street car. And now she's running him, around again, since he's back in uniform.

Who is the dame with a secret sorrow who writes all the letters of love to our Dr. I. G. Viscache these days? The doctor is greatly disturbed, thinks her a bore, and, besides, claims to be extremely heart-and-fancy free. And from what I am told, he is well reasoned in the line.

A $25,000 collection of oriental furniture is causing Richard Kliegman and the two Sherlockholmes at the Alexandria girls an occasion when he was himself a Pasadena collection for 75,000 and some very clever Pasadena girls. And now, with a Pasadena sell it and is so from Pasadena. And now, with a Pasadena sell it and is so from Pasadena. And now, with a Pasadena sell it and is so from Pasadena.

This G. D. Vaidt South Pasadena club frets all the Pasadena success of his latest Pasadena. He's really quite a Pasadena goes fishing of Pasadena and has been known to Pasadena. He is a Pasadena. He is a Pasadena. He is a Pasadena.

society. There never was a moral argument in favor of the saloon. The passing of the amendment is a victory for the spiritual man. The worst enemy the church ever faced in its work of the spiritual regeneration of men was the liquor traffic, which has damned more souls every year than the church has saved.

"It is a victory for law and order. I am giving you cold statistics, when I say that 75 per cent. of the cases of criminals and law-breakers brought before the courts have been due to the influence of strong drink. It is a victory for labor. Hobson said that if all the money spent by laborers for liquor, during the last few years, had been invested in railroad stocks and bonds, the laborers of the United States would now own all the railroads in America.

"It is a victory for the home and for society at large and when the law finally becomes effective, America should set aside one day in the year to be celebrated as 'Victory Day.'"

DR. J. CLARENCE PINKERTON, FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN.

"The ratification of the national prohibition amendment by more than six million Americans is the greatest moral victory achieved by the American people since the abolition of slavery."

HOME IS BLESSED.

Formal Opening of New Quarters for Japanese Catholic Work.

The new convent and children's home of the Japanese Sisters of the Visitation, at No. 425 South Boyle avenue, was blessed by Bishop Cantwell yesterday afternoon. In the presence of an assemblage of more than 200 supporters of this work. About half of the visitors were Japanese.

Bishop Cantwell gave a short address, in which he reviewed the excellent work done by Father Breton and the eight Japanese sisters here, and urged hearty support of the enlarged enterprise. Ten priests from local parishes were also present to extend their felicitations to Father Breton and the Sisters upon the success they have achieved. After the bishop's address a programme was given by the Japanese children.

The work among the Japanese was established here about four years ago by Father Breton, who had been a missionary in Japan. During the four years 120 Japanese have been received into the Catholic church. There are now eight Japanese Sisters of the Visitation engaged in the work in Los Angeles. The new home has accommodations for forty children, and there are now twenty children cared for in this institution, most of whom are orphans.

ENGLISH SETTER GONE; DYAS HUNTING ALONE.

Bernal H. Dyas went quail hunting yesterday under handicap. Saturday Mr. Dyas borrowed a valuable Irish setter from Revel English of Pasadena. It was a red setter with white feet and breast and a dash of white on head and tail. It had been wonderfully trained for hunting, and is said to be worth nearly $1000.

Somewhere between Pasadena and No. 700 South Ardmore street, the hunting dog got away, and after reporting a lion to the police, B. H. Dyas set out without the setter.

SUGGESTS COTTON MILLS.

Washington S. Morton of No. 656

Belmont street has started those who advocate excluding factories from the limits of the Crown City by proposing a postponement of memorial plans until the boys come home, and suggesting that Pasadena be bonded for $2,000,000, using the money to build cotton mills.

"The country needs cotton goods," he writes, "and Imperial Valley has a great surplus of cotton that is begging for a market. This would add new pep to our town. You know, we hate industry of all kinds, but we must get over it and get to work. This factory would give many soldiers and other worthy people a fine chance for employment. Our merchants would become more prosperous and our city would take on a new lease of life.

Other industries would come in. We have thousands of young men, full of energy, coming home and they must be provided for.

"Let's give up this thing of playing camouflage millionaires and get a move on us."

Hide offering property sites for the proposed memorial hall will be considered by the General Committee at a meeting in the Board of Trade rooms tomorrow morning. Several sites are being offered, with prices varying greatly, according to location and extent of property in question.

No one up to the present time has objected to a memorial of some kind being erected. The opposition springs entirely from the argument that $80,000 is too much to spend in these times on a memorial hall.

FOR FOREIGN SERVICE.

Miss Frances Louise Giansetti and Miss Ivy May Randall have been notified of their selection for overseas service as canteen workers for the Y.M.C.A. They will attend the conference of the War Victory Commission, which starts in New York

when they will be expected to sail for Europe.

ELECT OFFICERS.

The Pasadena Building and Loan

Association has elected the following officers for the year: Dr. Solon

Briggs, president; George R. Durrell, vice-president; Don C. Porter, attorney; Everett D. Hill, secretary, and National Bank of Pasadena, treasurer.

Capt. Cook was chosen to head

all calculations of income. Bond interest received during the year must also be included, except interest on municipal, county or state bonds. Interest on United States bonds does not have to be included by the ordinary taxpayer. Holders of large amounts of Liberty Bonds, however, should ask their bankers to write to the collector's office for the rule applying to tax on such interest.

"Dividends on stock shares are income, and must be included in the gross figure, although the law does not impose the normal tax on distributions made by domestic corporations.

"A person buying and selling merchandise must find his profits for the year on the following basis: First, ascertain the gross sales or total cash receipts. Then add together the inventory at the beginning of the year and the purchases or goods for resale. From this latter sum subtract the inventory of goods on hand at the year's end, and the result is the cost of goods sold. This cost, plus necessary expenses incurred through conduct of the business, is to be deducted from the gross sales, and the result is the net earnings of the business.

"A professional man arrives at his professional income by ascertaining the total of fees for services and deducting therefrom all expenses connected directly and solely with his practice.

"A farmer must figure up all income derived from the sale or exchange of products during the year, whether such produce was raised on the farm or purchased and resold. He is allowed to deduct from this total his expenses of the year connected with the planting, cultivation, harvesting and marketing of the crops, or the care, feeding and marketing of live stock.

"He is not allowed to deduct the amount expended in 1918 in purchasing stock for resale; but when such stock is sold its cost is to be deducted from the sale price, retaining the gain to be included in his return of income. The cost price of stock bought prior to 1917 cannot be deducted as in the case just cited, if such cost was included in the deduction made in the year of purchase.

"The farmer is not required to include in his income tax computation the value of farm produce consumed by himself and family. But in cases where he exchanges produce for merchandise, groceries, etc., the market value of the articles received in exchange must be included.

"All other items of income arising during the year through personal service, business or trade, through use of property or money, should be added into the gains for 1918.

"Everybody wants to know what income is exempt from tax. Very few plans that fall in the average man may be legally disregarded in figuring up his 1918 income. Gifts and bequests are not eliminated; all proceeds of life insurance received by the beneficiary of an insured person. A person who cashed in an endowment policy and received an amount greater than the original cost of the annuity. Dividends on unexpired life insurance policies are not taxable income; but dividends on paid up policies must be considered income. Alimony is not income to the recipient, not an allowable deduction on the part of the person who pays.

"From the total of all items of income there are certain deductions allowable by law. All interest paid on personal indebtedness and taxes paid during the year are deductible, except Federal income and excess profits taxes, inheritance taxes and assessments for local improvements, such as sidewalks, sewers, etc. Losses incurred in business or trade are allowable, also losses arising from fire, storm, shipwreck or other casualty, or from theft, in cases where such losses are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, because incurred outside of a person's regular business are allowable to the extent of gains reported from similar transactions within the year. Deductions due to the taxpayer actually ascertained to be worthless during the year are deductible.

"Depreciation on property used in a profession, in business, or in farming is another item that may be claimed as a deduction. The taxpayer may claim depreciation on his fixtures, his delivery horses and wagons, but not on his stock held for sale. The professional man may claim similar deduction on his instruments, and in the case of a physician who maintains a team or auto for making his calls on patients, reasonable depreciation may be claimed.

"The farmer may claim depreciation on his farm buildings, aside from his personal residence, also on his farm machinery, his work horses and farm work wagons. The theory of depreciation, in connection with income tax, is that wear and tear caused by use in earning income is a real expense in the earning of that income. The depreciation is figured by the number of years that the property ordinarily would be useful, and the cost of the property is the basis of the computation. If the property suffering depreciation was bought or acquired prior to March 1, 1913, the market value as of that date is used, instead of the cost, in figuring depreciation.

"Contributions of gifts actually made in 1918 to organizations operating exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific or educational purposes, and to societies for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, may be deducted, to an amount not exceeding 10 per cent. of the net income computed without the benefit of this deduction.

"After the total of all income is found, and the deductions allowable by law have been computed as an offset, the amount of income in excess of such deductions is the net income, which forms the basis of the assessment of tax.

"If every person in this district will examine his own 1918 income and his allowable deductions, in line with data that I have given, he will know beyond doubt whether he must file his return when the blanks arrive. And here he must file if his net income was $1000 or more, and this requirement is enforced whether or not he is the head of a family. If he is married, he must file his return if his net income, including that of his wife and minor children, was $2000 or more.

"I want to emphasize the co-operation feature of the collection of the income tax for a year. The policy of the Internal Revenue Bureau is to aid taxpayers to meet the requirements of the law. We are going right to the people, offering every helpful governmental function that will assist people to do their duty."

OIL STRIKE IMPORTANT.

Establishes Value of Part of the Famous Kern County Naval Reserve.

Great importance is attached to the strike made by the Standard Oil Company which, as reported in last Monday's Times, has encountered oil testing thirty-nine gravity in its oil well on section 36, 23, 24, in the southeast of the Elk Hills. The strike has been made at a depth of 2449 feet. At this point the well was cemented and when reopened it was found that the oil was standing 109 feet in the hole. Although it had intended originally to go deeper, the company at once decided to make a thorough test of the commercial possibilities of the well at this level.

Not only does this strike promise to open an entirely new field, but it establishes the value for oil of at least a part of the famous Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 1, which Secretary Daniels has insisted upon preserving intact. The standards property is within the limits of the reserve itself, but it is on land patented to the State for school purposes, years before the famous withdrawal order of President Taft was issued and, therefore, it is not affected in any way as to title by what the government has done, and will not be affected by anything which it may do, short of actual condemnation proceedings.

If it develops commercial quantities, as it now seems likely to do, the Standard's strike is important, also, because of its comparatively shallow depth. When the United States Geological Survey examined the Elk Hills preliminary section into a Naval Petroleum Reserve, its experts held extremely favorable opinions as to its prospective production of oil, but they all agreed that it probably would be necessary to drill to a depth of close to 4000 feet in order to get it. This opinion was apparently confirmed by the wells drilled by the Associated Oil Company on sections nearer the center of the territory involved. The strike has, also, some additional interest from the fact that the well was cemented and when reopened it was found that the oil was standing 109 feet in the hole. Although it had intended originally to go deeper, the company at once decided to make a thorough test of the commercial possibilities of the well at this level.

The suit was decided in favor of the railroad company some months ago by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco on the ground that even if the facts alleged by the government were true, they did not constitute fraud and established no ground for recovery of title to the land.

The appellate judges said that from the evidence they were satisfied that many of the government's allegations were true, but they declared that they did not constitute fraud and were perfectly legitimate. For the reason that mineral lands in a legal sense are only lands which have been clearly proved mineral-bearing, not merely prospective production, but proved mineral indications and it is admitted that that is what these lands were when patented to the railroad company.

BUILDINGS STORED AT LIBERTY FAIR.

COLLAPSIBLE PORTIONS PUT UNDER COVER TO SAVE THEM FROM WEATHER.

To those not familiar with the fact that the live-stock buildings at the Liberty Fair were built on the sectional plan it begins to look as though the entire group is to be torn down, but Director-General R. W. Priddyman states that portions of the stock buildings are simply being removed and stored in sheds to shelter the lumber from the weather.

The sides, ends and floors of goat, sheep, hog and cattle pens have been removed and nothing is left but the supports and roofs of the long string of low buildings which face Santa Barbara avenue. The improvised horse barns which sprang up in a single day last November, after a thirty-four-mile wind carried away a huge horse tent, have also been torn down.

It is likely, Mr. Priddyman says, that the old horse sheds will be replaced by fine pavilions as soon as the financial condition of the Liberty Fair Association has improved. The expectation is that the Legislature will take steps to free the Liberty Fair Association from the debts which accumulated as a result of the influenza quarantine which delayed the opening last year.

DIAMOND RING GONE.

West Washington street, went to Vernon Thursday, and was introduced to a man who noticed the valuable diamond ring. He was asked if he might look at it. He took it from her finger and he then asked permission to show it to a friend across the room. She reported to the police yesterday that he had not yet returned.

SOUTHLAND CASUALTIES.

E, Three Hundred and Sixty-first Infantry, one of the regiments of the Ninety-first Division. Peters left Pomona last April, going to Camp Lewis. In June he left for overseas duty. Last week the family heard a rumor that he had been wounded. An effort was being made to verify this rumor when the message came that he had been killed. He leaves a widow who is now in Jamestown, N. Y. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Peters, of No. 514 East Eighth street.

FLU REAPS HEAVY TOLL AT VENTURA.

SANTA BARBARA HOMES ALSO SADDENED BY RAVAGES OF EPIDEMIC.

VENTURA, Jan. 19.—The influenza took heavy toll here yesterday among well-known residents. Joseph E. Stuart, a local business man, passed away only a few weeks after his wife's death, leaving only one son, Harold, aged 9, an orphan. Mr. Stuart is the fifth in his family connection here, to die this winter. Four of the five being victims of the epidemic. Mr. Stuart was 33 years of age and active in lodge work, having held high offices in the Knights of Pythias and the Odd Fellows.

Miss Elizabeth Bassett, teacher of the Olivewood school, succumbed to the disease after a brief illness. Miss Bassett's home was in Pasadena and she had taught three years in the schools of the county. Her parents came here to be with her when she became ill. The remains will be taken to Pasadena for interment.

E. F. Bond, a former resident and well known throughout the county, passed away at Compton, a victim of the epidemic and his body was brought here yesterday for interment beside that of twin sons who had here many years ago. He is survived by a widow and three children, Gertrude, a teacher in the Los Angeles schools; Earl, who lives at Glendale, and Ray, a rancher at Tulare.

See Thompson, formerly of Ventura, recently moved to Santa Barbara, was through here yesterday with his two little sons, taking the body of wife and mother back to their old home in Missouri. Mrs. Thompson died of influenza pneumonia in a hospital in Santa Barbara.

Death by influenza has also settled for all time litigation between Mrs. Whelch and Cora Whelch of Stint, whose difficulties over property rights have been much in evidence in the courts here for the past several years. Mrs. Whelch's death, the widow is left in undisputed possession of the field. The Whelches have one son who is in the navy and two daughters, Helen and Edna.

VICTIMS AT SANTA BARBARA.

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 19.—Funeral services for Charles E. Phoenix, president of the Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce, president of the Merchants' Credit Association, city Commissioner, who died at his home here last night, is held in abeyance waiting the arrival of his mother from Taft. Mrs. Phoenix had been called to Taft to attend the bedside of another son who is very low with influenza. Phoenix was a Knight Templar, a Shriner and an Elk.

Influenza also last night claimed Ramon Caraga, member of one of the pioneer families of the county, and a large ranch owner. Ramon and his brother Bernardo came to Santa Barbara a week ago to visit relatives, contracting the epidemic. Bernardo died Wednesday.

DIES OF PNEUMONIA.

PARADISE, Jan. 19.—William A. Casler, of No. 245 South Los Robles avenue, died at 3 a.m. Saturday, January 18, of pneumonia. He was a native of Louisville, Ky., aged 25 years. He leaves a widow, Mrs. William A. Casler, of Paradise, father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Casler, of Louisville, Ky., and a sister, Mrs. Betty L. Dawson, of St. Louis, Mo. He was a thirty-second degree Mason and a member of El Kosair Temple of Louisville. Funeral services will be held at the undertaking parlors of Turner & Stevens, No. 93 North Raymond avenue, at 2 p.m. Monday, January 20. The remains will be sent to Louisville for interment.

SILVER-LEAD GROUP OF MINES CHANGES HANDS.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

PRESCOTT, (ARIZ.) Jan. 17.—The old A. B. silver-lead group in Thumb Butte district, near this city, has been bought by William Dearling by Kyle & Bartlett of Denver. The old Zonia group, one of several copper properties in the Placitas section, is being worked by a company of simple capital.

The Mark Twain property, south of Prescott, has passed on a short working option to Moore, Healy & Smith, three local men. Deep operations have been started on the United Arizona, near Cordes, in the southern part of the county. At Crown King the Bradshaw Reduction Company is treating 150 tons of gold ore daily.

ADMITTS SHOOTING.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

RAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 19.—After admitting that he fired the shot which killed Ramon Cisneros at Colton, but claiming that he was accidental, Jose Rodriguez, a prisoner in the County Jail since the shooting, was formally charged with his murder yesterday. Sheriff W. A. Shay stated that four shots were fired as his comment on the plea of Rodriguez that it was accidental.
